Back due to popular demand! The PPA proudly presents:

Conversations Inviting Change

Tutor: Dr John Launer
plus accredited facilitators

Dates:
- Friday 13th March 2020
- Friday 20th March 2020
- Friday 1st May 2020

Hurry! Places are limited and demand is high

Venue:
Pain Management Centre
National Hospital for Neurology & Neurosurgery
25 Cleveland Street, London W1T 4AJ

To book: Visit PPA website (https://ppa.csp.org.uk/events)

About Conversations Inviting Change:
Professionals all need sophisticated interactional skills. "Conversations Inviting Change" is a narrative-based approach to encounters in health and social care that can enrich all professional work.

CIC is based on the simple idea that everyone - whether as a patient, client, learner or colleague - benefits from telling stories about their experiences, and being skilfully questioned about these.

CIC can be applied in:
- person-centred consultations with individuals and families
- supervision, coaching and mentoring
- team development and facilitation
- conflict resolution
- training in reflective practice and professionalism
- action learning sets and collaborative learning groups
- leadership and management
- creating a culture of respect

Course Format
This 3 day course will consist mostly of interactive facilitated small group sessions with opportunities to apply skills between days.

Cost:
- PPA members: £400
- Non-PPA Members: £500

Membership costs just £20 per year! More details here

About Dr John Launer
Dr John Launer was the originator, with Caroline Lindsey, of "Conversations Inviting Change" (CIC). This is a narrative-based model for interactional skills, used in encounters with patients, clients and families, as well as for individual and group supervision, mentoring, coaching, team facilitation and conflict resolution. John has given presentations and workshops on "CIC" in every region of the UK and in Europe, Israel, Japan, the United States, Canada and Australia. Visits in 2018 included Palestine, Denmark and Italy.